

VISTA — READ BEFORE BUYING

Before you buy a new computer or upgrade to Windows Vista, you need to review the websites I've collected at <http://darryd.com/Links> under the "Windows Vista" collection.

I do not recommend upgrading to Vista because of the problems and the costs that can be involved in making your upgrading your hardware and software in order to run Vista.

Currently, I am recommending that my clients and friends not buy a computer until the middle of this year at the earliest in order to give Microsoft time to publish fixes to some difficulties built into this operating system.

GLOBAL INCIDENT MAP

This map of worldwide terrorism, natural catastrophes and political events updates every 460 seconds. Click on any icon for information. Visit this site frequently. < <http://www.globalincidentmap.com/home.php> >. To see more news sites, visit <http://darryd.com/Links> and click on 'News'.

COMPARE ANTIVIRUS SOFTWARE

There is a website that compares all major anti-virus software.

Do not have some friend tell you which is best, visit here and make a selection yourself based upon scientific evidence: <http://www.av-comparatives.org/> For more software sites, visit my webpage <http://darryd.com/Links> and click on 'PC Software'.

