

Internet Explorer 7 TOOLBARS

© Darry D Eggleston, 813.677.2871, DarryD@darryd.com

In the new Internet Explorer 7, you can add or remove ToolBars. Here's how.

Figure 1 — Before Changes

1. RIGHT-click on the ToolBar and select any additional ToolBars you want added (Figure 2).

2. The result is that the Adobe PDF MenuBar appears (Figure 3).

Figure 2

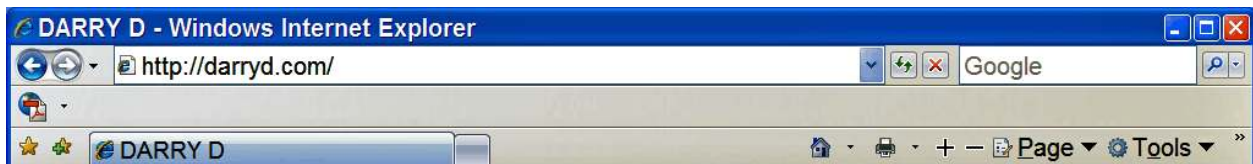

Figure 3 — PDF Added

3. Using the steps in paragraph 1, I added the "Links" MenuBar. The result is shown in Figure 4.

Figure 4 — Links Added

4. However, now I want to combine the Adobe PDF MenuBar and the Links MenuBar (Figure 5):

- ① RIGHT-click on the Links MenuBar.
- ② Click on "Lock the ToolBars" to unlock them. This permits moving a MenuBar.

5. Left-click, hold, and drag the Links MenuBar to the destination you desire (Figure 6).

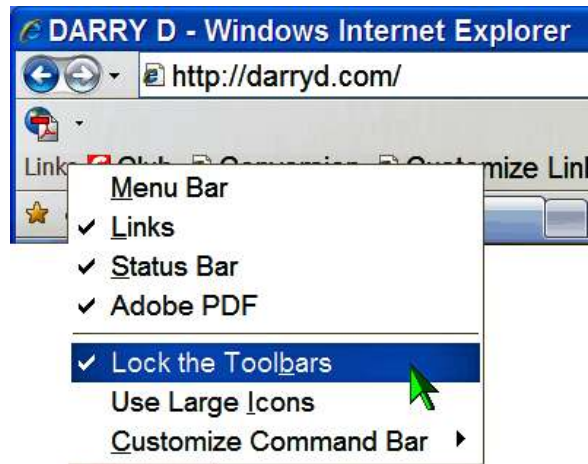

Figure 5

Figure 6

6. The result is shown in Figure 7. (I recommend you repeat the steps in paragraph 4 to Lock the MenuBars in place again.)

Figure 7