SHARING PHOTOS

Sometimes, after you've created a great graphic in Adobe Photoshop Elements, you'll want to share it immediately with friends via email. This is how to do that.

1. Open the Organizer (Figure 1).
2. Select the photo to be shared (Figure 2).

4. If you forget to select a photo, you'll get this error message (Figure 4). Go back to Step 2 and select a photo.

5. If the intended recipient is already in your Photoshop Elements Address Book, click on the name. If not, click on the “Add Recipient” button (Figure 5).

6. The current email recipients shows. In this case, I'm going to add a “New Contact” (Figure 6).

7. Complete the portions you desire (Figure 7). At least one portion of the name must be entered and the email address.

The email address will show as red letters until it is a valid email address, then the letters turn black.

9. Left-click on the recipient and then click on “Next” button (Figure 9).

NOTE: The example graphic changed because I am adding this section to the previously-designed lesson.
