This compares three competing products which claim to remove unused and temporary files from your system allowing Windows to run faster, more efficiently and giving you more hard disk space.

The three products are:

- Disk Cleanup which comes as a part of Windows XP.
- CCleaner (Click here to download.)
- ATF Cleaner (Click here to download.)

I ran two tests. For the first test, I ran the programs in the order they are listed above. In the second test, I ran Disk Cleanup, CCleaner and then ATF Cleaner.

The results show that Disk Cleanup is a woefully inadequate cleanup program. The second test may show that if one runs ATF Cleaner, one does not need CCleaner. However, that would require more testing.

TEST 1 — JUNE 6, 1007
PRODUCT	TIME REQUIRED	RECOVERED
Disk Cleanup	2 minutes, 52 seconds	1.03 Mb
CCleaner	2 seconds	3.95 Mb
ATF Cleaner	6 seconds	7.7 Mb

TEST 2 — JUNE 16, 2007
PRODUCT	TIME REQUIRED	RECOVERED
Disk Cleanup	2 minutes, 48 seconds	6,668 Kb
ATF Cleaner	6 seconds	10.992 Mb
CCleaner	3 seconds	0.98 Mb
